A Viennese Legend

Since 1871, the ARCOTEL Wimberger has been a Viennese legend and has always been a popular meeting place for local celebrities, artists and globetrotters. "The ARCOTEL Wimberger is unique because it all began here: it is the ancestral home of the ARCOTEL Hotels, which has an enormous tradition and exudes the proverbial 'Viennese charm'," says Dr. Renate Wimmer, owner of the ARCOTEL Group. Due to its central location, the hotel is an ideal starting point for sightseeing, shopping, concerts and congresses. The area around the ARCOTEL Wimberger is full of restaurants, pubs and bars. But especially the hotel itself offers a variety of events. From September to June, the legendary jazz brunch takes place on Sundays, either in the Handwerk Restaurant or in the ballroom. Stars of the international jazz scene are on the program every year and pamper the guests while enjoying the rich buffet. In addition, special events with culinary tasting and musical entertainment take place on public holidays and special occasions, such as Christmas, New Year's Eve, Ash Wednesday, Easter and Mother's Day.

The ARCOTEL Wimberger in Vienna offers 12 function rooms on two floors, which can be combined and flexibly expanded - for example into a large ballroom with gallery and daylight. The restaurant in Vienna's 7th district is an oasis for all those who are looking to get away from the bustling city to enjoy that typical unhurried and easy-going Viennese way of life. The beautifully renovated wall panels, tiled tables with original Viennese tiles, and artisanal crystal chandeliers, combined with the jade-green 1930s-era banker's lamps, vintage-style chairs and tables in wood optic, speak for themselves. The menu also fits into the new restaurant line like a culinary mosaic, agreeably fresh and sophisticated: with classics from Viennese cuisine, modern interpretations from around the world and multicultural dishes. If you enjoy eating out, then this is the place for you.

Joe's Bar in the ARCOTEL Wimberger Vienna, decorated in colonial style, offers an impressive assortment of whisky specialities and rarities.
